Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 31 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning significantly colder this week. Further showers at times.

This Evening and Tonight:
Blustery showers, heavy at times, continuing overnight. Showers generally more frequent and prolonged in the west, especially over the hills, with some drier, clear spells further east. Chilly under any prolonged clear spells. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Monday:
Monday continuing showery, heavy and prolonged at times. Strong winds, with gales possible on hills and coasts. Starting to feel colder than of late. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Isolated showers with sunny spells Tuesday and lighter winds. Wednesday and Thursday showers, especially on coasts, with some brighter spells. Windy again, perhaps with coastal gales, and feeling colder.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.